Gain insights from leading voices in international education. Hear sector leaders share their perspectives and analyses, and listen to researchers discuss higher education policy and practice at global, regional, and national levels.

Spotlight sessions include:

- University Presidents Panel
- Global Rankings
- Erasmus+ Program

WORKSHOPS (Limited Number of Participants; Pre-registration Required)

Conference workshops are tailored for the professional development of international office staff at higher education institutions (HEIs). Led by experienced peers, these workshops introduce key contextual information and best practices in various areas of international education. Register to enhance your existing skills, acquire new ones, and boost your job performance..

- Virtual International Collaborations
- International Education Marketing and Recruitment
- Impact of AI on Teaching and Learning

III. ROUNDTABLES (Moderated Discussions)

Join a roundtable to exchange ideas and experiences on what works best at your institution. This is an opportunity to connect with colleagues who share similar interests and gain insights from their input.

- Women's Leadership in Higher Education
- Research in International Education
- English Language in Global Higher Education

V. POSTER SESSIONS

Poster sessions highlight innovative practices, tools, and technologies advancing the internationalization of higher education. Presentations will focus on key aspects of international education presented in a visually engaging format. On the opening day of the event, poster presenters will be available to interact with attendees and answer any questions. The poster area will remain open throughout the event, providing opportunities for continuous learning and exploration.

EURIE 2026 TESTIMONIALS

"For education professionals needing to fully grasp the future trends and high stakes of 21st century higher education, the EURIE conference is a "must attend" annual event. Whether your focus is research, mobility, partnerships, quality assurance, or sustainability teaching, learning, and assessment, EURIE is the place to be! Oh, and by the way, it's a ton of fun with lots of great folks!"

Scott G. Blair, PhD. Content Development Editor, TASKTM -- The Assessment of Sustainability Knowledge. Sulitest Impact

"EURIE 2026 was an exceptionally well-organized and forward-looking conference that brought together meaningful voices from across international higher education. As a speaker, I particularly valued the quality of discussions and the strong focus on practical, student-centered innovation. It was a pleasure to contribute and engage with such a dynamic and collaborative community. Hope to see you again in 2027!"

Hakan Karaoğlu. Partner, EduEnable

“I had the pleasure of presenting at EURIE on the resilience of transatlantic partnerships in international education, and the experience was truly exceptional. EURIE continues to establish itself as a vital sister conference to EAIE and NAFSA, and it deserves the full attention of professionals across the global higher education community each year. What sets EURIE apart is the remarkable depth of expertise among its participants—leaders and practitioners who are actively shaping cross-border mobility, collaborative research, and innovative teaching partnerships.”

Alina Pap. Academic Director for International Partnerships, Pace University

“As a seasoned education leader, I have had the privilege of attending numerous conferences across the globe, meeting remarkable individuals, visiting outstanding institutions, and engaging in meaningful conversations within our dynamic and ever-evolving industry. Yet, I feel compelled to share that EURIE 2026 has left an imprint on me unlike any other. What sets this experience apart is not only the excellence of the event itself, but the deeply personal and human touch that the EURIE Team brought into it. The warmth, kindness, generosity, and genuine hospitality were unforgettable.”

Babitha Vadamodula. Vice President- Partnerships, MSM Unify
